In theory an Amaryllis takes between 6 and 8 weeks to flower. But some seem to have a mind of their own and are reluctant to break their sleep!

Reluctant 'Adele'
